FOR PRESS, RADIO and TELEVISION

This is your 1960 Maryland football brochure "The 50-Yard Line." It is published in hope that it offers you helpful information for your coverage of Terp games this season. With this book goes an invitation to you to visit us as often as possible in our offices in Cole Field House. In return, I will try to visit you as often as I can and extend every assistance possible. For any information, you can reach me day and night at UNion 4-4076.

Applications for tickets should be made the first part of the week of the game to allow time for mailing. Wire and telephone requirements should be made through your local Western Union office.

Every effort will be made to furnish all the services in the press box available, so that your accounts of the game can be most adequate for your readers. Statistics, both half-time and final figures; a quarter play-by-play; game leaders in all departments; substitutions, etc. will be ready a few minutes after the game.

Many thanks for all your cooperation and favors of the past.

JOE F. BLAIR
Sports Publicity Director

DR. WILSON H. ELKINS

PRESIDENT, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Dr. Wilson Homer Elkins assumed the presidency of the University of Maryland on September 1, 1954. His formal inauguration as the twenty-first head of the institution took place on January 20, 1955.

He has brought to the University of Maryland an outstanding professional record of proven leadership in educational administration, and an unusual background of high scholastic achievement and demonstrated athletic ability during his undergraduate and graduate career.

At Maryland, he has stressed the obligation of the state to provide a quality education for all Maryland youth who demonstrate their capacity to learn. On the subject of sports, he has said that values and attitudes developed in activities outside of the classroom, including football, are important elements of a liberal education.

Dr. Elkins is a native Texan. He was a Rhodes Scholar from 1933 to 1936. He received the B. Litt. and D. Phil. degrees from Oxford University, England, in 1936. He received his undergraduate education at the University of Texas from 1928 to 1932. At Texas he earned eight varsity letters in football, basketball and track. He was elected president of the Student Association and captain of the basketball team in his senior year. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Omicron Delta Kappa. He was graduated from the University of Texas in 1932 with B.A. and M.A. degrees. In addition, he holds two honorary degrees: a Doctor of Laws from Washington College in 1954 and a Doctor of Laws from The Johns Hopkins University in 1955.

Dr. Elkins began his professional career in education as an instructor in history at the University of Texas in 1936. He held two presidencies prior to assuming this office at the University of Maryland. From 1938 to 1949, he was President of San Angelo Junior College, San Angelo, Texas; and he was president of Texas Western College, a branch of the University of Texas, from 1949 to 1954.

In 1937, Dr. Elkins was married to the former Dorothy Blackburn of Berclair, Tex. They have two daughters, Carole Ann and Margaret Elise.

WILLIAM W. COBEY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Bill Cobey starts his fifth year as Director of Athleties in directing the vast Maryland athletic program. One of the most popular and most outstanding in the field, Cobey directs his every effort to give the Terrapins one of the finest programs in the country.

During the four years he has headed the program, Cobey has seen the Terrapins dominate the Atlantic Coast Conferenee championships in the twelve reeognized eonference ehampionship sports.

Prior to his appointment in February of 1956, Cobey was Graduate Manager of Athletics for nine years. It was he who administered and handled the overall athletie program.

Long devotion to the University wasn't new to the affable Cobey. He came to the Athletic Department after having served 17 years as Cashier of the University.

The Cobey name is not new, even to old-time University graduates. Bill's father, W. W. Cobey, was a 1901 graduate and a letterman in track and manager of the baseball team. He beeame a famous agri-eultural scientist and while in Florida, he was one of the pioneers in the discovery of leaf tobacco. Cobey also had two uncles graduate from the University.

Bill, as he is known to the many friends he has made around home and throughout the athletic fraternity, came to Maryland in the fall of 1926 following graduation from Fort Meyer, Fla. High School. Born and raised in Quincy, still his native home, Cobey attended Quincy schools through eleventh grade before the family moved to Fort Meyer.

After playing freshman lacrosse, Cobey had to cast aside any athletic team participation in order that he might get a job to help him through school. This employment was in the Cashier's office where he worked until his graduation in 1930. He belonged to the Kappa Alpha Fraternity while an undergraduate.

Following graduation, he returned to Quincy, Fla., and worked with his uncle on a truck farm. He returned to the University to accept the job as Cashier of the University. It was this job he held for 17 years, until 1948 when he accepted the position of Graduate Manager of Athletics. Then came the appointment as Director of Athletics, February 1, 1956.

Cobey is active in community affairs, having been a past president of University Park PTA; councilman for University Park two years; first president of the University branch of the Maryland Classified Employee's Assn.; and is active in the College Park Rotary Club.

Cobey married the former Mary Gray Munroe, also of Quincy, Fla., in 1935. They have six children, three daughters and three sons. Their oldest daughter, Mary Patricia, is a graduate of the University; William is a Pre-Med. Student at Emory College; Julia Ann is a Junior at the University, while Betty is in the twelfth grade. A son, Elwood is in ninth grade while the baby of the family, Munroe, is in third grade.

The Cobeys are members of the University Methodist Church, College Park.

TOM NUGENT

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Following his first season as Maryland's head football coach, there is little doubt that Tom Nugent has become the Terps' football man of the hour and definitely the right choice to guide the Maryland gridiron fortunes back to the winning formula.

The big job of rebuilding the football program was given to Nugent last year. The popular young master of one of football's most imaginative and successful offensive formations, the "I," Nugent is considered by his fellow coaches to have one of the game's finest football minds. His play each Saturday is original and with an interesting style of play.

The sharp minded Nugent had a most successful debut at Maryland last fall, winning five games and losing five. The pre-season experts had picked his newly-inherited Terrapins to win one game. The Red and White won its last three games on the schedule and won over Conference champion Clemson and North Carolina, who finished one-two in the ACC. Nugent brought to Maryland and its fans the most interesting and exciting football it has seen in a long time. With time, it definitely looks like the winning type football.

Nugent gathered together an outstanding staff that had many years of coaching experience. He also brought his own organizational and inspirational genius that is his trademark. With him and his staff is their outstanding student recruitment also. Nugent's freshman class of last fall was thought to be one of the best ever to enroll at Maryland. With another outstanding class promised for this fall, Nugent's plans to furnish his every effort to bring Maryland back has a fine nucleus. The molding of the teams for the new era has been firmly laid.

The thoughts are that Nugent will do the job. He often is referred to as the "magician" of football in the South. He has had two former assignments, V.M.I. and Florida State and brought both from obscurity to success, through winning records. There is little reason to believe the same won't be accomplished here, for he and his staff have access to a much better area for recruiting through the excellent geographic location of the University.

The sharp-minded new Terrapin mentor has become known nationally for his bright innovations. It was Nugent who presented to football the now famous "I" formation, the typewriter huddle, and the double quarterback. The coaching fraternity considers his new football wrinkles the finest and most exciting.

In 1954, he started the Florida State Football Clinic and saw it develop to be considered the top football clinic in the country. The 1958 clinic attracted nearly 1000 coaches from all parts of the country. His program was headlined by a "Who's Who" of big name coaches each year.

Nugent's first head coaching job was at Virginia Military Academy. In four years, 1949-52, he compiled a 19-18-2 record. The 1951 season found the Keydets tied with Maryland for the Southern Conference championship. Both had 5-0 marks in the league. It was during this season, his team scored a mighty upset over Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

The affable Nugent moved to Florida State for the season of 1953 and in six years his Seminoles had been brought out of the football doldrums and became known to all as he guided his teams to 34 victories, 27 defeats, and one tie. His ten-year record reads 53 wins, 45 losses, and three ties.

A native of Lawrence, Mass., he attended and graduated from Ithaca College in 1936.

He married the former Peg Foley, and they have nine children, four girls and five boys—Tommy, 17; Kerry, 16; Peggy, 14; T. D., 12; Patty, 10; Timmy, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Jerry, 4; and John Michael, 2.

ASSISTANT COACHES

BILL "WHITEY" DOVELL

The 1953 graduate from the School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health, is starting his eighth year as a member of the Terp coaching staff. Dovell has been a line coach since 1955 after serving three years as freshman coach.

When coach Tom Nugent came to Maryland last year, he retained the popular Dovell as a member of his staff.

Following graduation, the former Terp guard was appointed freshman coach and also assisted the varsity and scouted future Terp opponents. As freshman coach, he led the Terp yearlings to three winning seasons, highlighted by the 1955 undefeated team. The '55 frosh team represents the first and only freshman team to win all its games. The big game was the final one of the season. It was the much publicized "international" grid attraction between the Terp frosh and Mexico Polytechnic Institute. Playing across the border in Mexico City, Dovell's team won 26-13.

Dovell is a tireless worker. Along with his coaching duties, he handles the film library for the staff. Those in the coaching fraternity compliment Dovell as one of its finest young members as having a fine football mind.

He married the former Clair Benson. They have two daughters.

LEE CORSO

Until someone comes along in future years, the name of Lee Corso will continue to head the list as the all-time quarterback at his Florida State alma mater. And it was under the coaching hand of Tom Nugent that Corso helped bring Florida State and Nugent into national prominence.

Following graduation in 1957, Nugent retained his brilliant quarterback as an assistant and brought him to Maryland last fall. His work coaching the defensive backs was outstanding.

A native of Miami, Fla., Corso had a brilliant career in football, baseball, and basketball. He was selected first team all-State in each sport his senior year. He won the honor in basketball also his junior year. Also, he was named "Athletic-Scholar of the Year" his final term and was on the all-Southern all-American football team. Too, he was named to the Wigwam All-America team his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society.

Following graduation, he entered Florida State in the fall of 1953.

One of the most popular and most successful high school coaches during a long tenure in the South, Reid accepted the call of Nugent to come to Maryland with him last year, as assistant line coach.

Reid had great success at Albany, Ga., High School and established an outstanding reputation as one of the best in coaching. He had sent many star players on to the large colleges and universities in the South.

The 34-year old Reid is a native of Hamilton, Ohio. He graduated from Hamilton High in 1942 where he was a three year star and a weight man on the track team.

Following his high school graduation, he entered the University of Cincinnati that fall. He stayed long enough to play the freshman grid schedule, then enlisted in the Merchant Marine where he stayed 18 months Discharged in January of 1944, he entered the University of Georgia in the spring semester. He played the fall of '44 for Coach Wally Butts as a guard but the Army then called him into the service, in December. He served in Germany 22 months with the 78th Infantry. He was discharged in January of 1947.

He returned to Georgia and completed his studies and played his

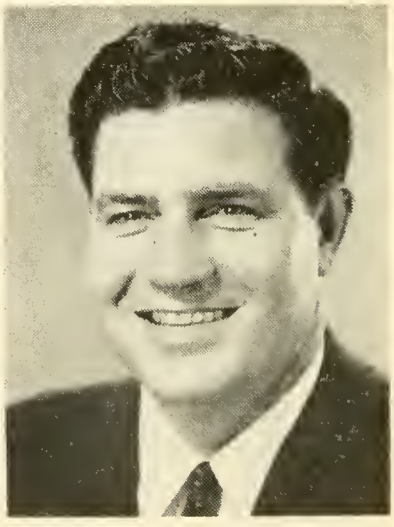
ALF SATTERFIELD



One of the most familiar names in coaching circles, Satterfield also joined Nugent's staff last year following a brilliant reputation he made while line coach at V.P.I. As the Gobblers built fine teams, much of the credit was given the team's outstanding line play under the guidance of Satterfield. He handles the same line coaching chores for the Terps.

The 38-year old Satterfield comes to Maryland after eight years at V.P.I. as their line coach and after helping develop their grid fortunes back to the winning ledger.

A native of Russellville, Ark., he attended that high school and graduated in 1940. There he was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball. He lettered all three years in each sport. A center in football, he was named to the all-State first team his senior year. He also was chosen to play in the first high school all-American game in Memphis, Tenn.

Following graduation, he entered Vanderbilt University and played tackle as a freshman and two varsity seasons prior to his entering the Army in February, 1943. While in the service, he served with the 90th Infantry Division in the European Theater of Operations. He

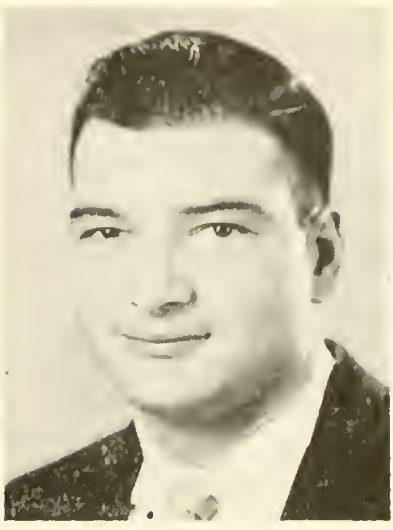
ROLAND ARRIGONI



Again this fall, the big and all-important job of tutoring the freshman team will be handled by Arrigoni.

Nugent brought the 27-year old New Mexico University graduate with him after he had served a year under him at Florida State.

Arrigoni is a native of Chicago, but moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico at a young age and received his early schooling there. He attended Albuquerque High School, graduating in June of 1951. There he lettered three years in football as a tackle and three years as a catcher in baseball.

He entered the University of New Mexico in the fall of 1951. He graduated in 1956 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education. While at New Mexico, he was a star tackle for three years and again lettered three years in baseball as a catcher. He was offered a chance to enter the New York Yankee farm system, but his service obligation prevented his signing a contract.

He was drafted into the service in August of 1956. He was assigned to Fort Bliss, Tex., and put in his two years of duty there. He played

FRANK TOOMEY

When Tom Nugent came to Maryland, he brought with him his top coach and strategist, Toomey, to continue his fine work with the backfield. The serious, hard-working Toomey, who works as a perfectionist with precision, is a most highly regarded and respected backfield teacher.

Toomey attended his native Niagara Falls St. Mary's High School then went to Canisius Prep in Buffalo where he lettered three years in football, baseball, and basketball. Following graduation from Canisius, he enrolled at Ithaca College in 1941. Before going into the Marines in June of 1943, he played two years at Ithaca in all three sports. He was Captain of the football team, playing tailback, as a sophomore and was captain of the basketball team as a freshman. He was a center fielder in baseball.

His early Marine career sent him to Parris Island, Camp Lejeune, and in January, 1944 went to Officers' School at Quantico, and received his commission. He was assigned to Maui, Hawaii as Company Commander then led his unit in a first wave frontal assault at Iwo Jima in February of 1945. It was during this operation that he received the Purple Heart, a Presidential Citation, and the Navy Commendation.

THE TRAINERS

ALFRED J. "Duke" WYRE

One of the most popular and considered by the training fraternity as one of its best, the Terps' "Duke" Wyre starts his 14th year as head trainer at Maryland.

Duke came to Maryland in 1947 under the reorganization plan of the department and has added to his reputation as a leading authority in the all-important field of training athletic teams. He heads two of the best equipped and most modern training rooms in the country.

Many honors have come to Duke in his many years with the training association. The fitting climax came this year as he was selected as one of the eight United States trainers for this year's Olympic games in Rome. Duke's primary assignment was to train the United States Olympic Crew, and happily the winning crew was that of the Terps' neighbors, Navy. His appointment was the culmination of the many years as a trainer.

In 1956, he was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the National Trainers' Association, a position which he still holds.

He has authored many articles and manuals on training methods, and is always in demand to give lectures on athletic training methods at numerous clinics. He also has devised various equipment pieces that are used for athletic injuries and prevention of injuries.

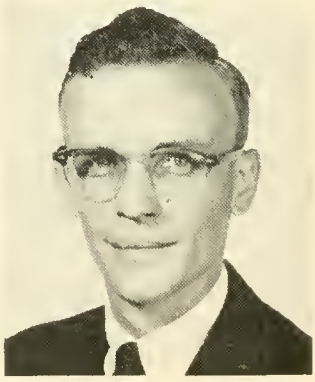
BILL "Spider" FRY



Starting his fifth year as Wyre's full-time assistant, Bill 'Spider" Fry returned to his alma mater in 1956 following his service hitch with the Air Force.

Fry worked four years as a student assistant for Wyre in the Terp training room while attending the University. Following his discharge in June 1955, he returned to Maryland and entered Graduate School. When the opening occurred for an assistant trainer, he was appointed.

A native of Norristown, Pa., Fry attended Elkton High School, Md., where he played and lettered for three years in soccer and basketball.

He entered the University in the fall of 1946 and graduated with a B.S. Degree from the School of Physical Education.

Following graduation in June of 1950, he went into the Air Force and was assigned to jet Engine training. During his four years, he was stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Base in Tucson and Great Falls Air Base, Montana, assigned to jet duty. He also was trainer for the base athletic teams.

OPPONENTS' OUTLOOK

West Virginia University

BY EDGAR BARRETT

A new coach and new players, coupled with more experience and better spirit, enhance West Virginia University's football outlook for 1960. After two losing seasons, in which the Mountaineers played some great games but fell victim to several upsets, new coach Gene Corum strives to maintain a high degree of morale that will insure consistent performance.

With more than 50 sophomores listed on the spring roster, Corum injected new blood into his lineup. Veterans face a fight for at least six positions. Only RT Glenn Bowman and RH John Marra are fairly sure of retaining their positions among seven returning regulars.

Corum figures on employing three units—a two-way team and separate units for offense and defense.

Here are the factors in the 1960 Mountaineer outlook:

Experience: Seven return who led in minutes played at their positions—LE Bob Timmerman, RG Pete Tolley, RT Glenn Bowman, RE Dave Hess, QB Danny Williams, RH John Marra and FB Bob Benke. Lettermen number 17 including a 1958 letterman who was injured part of last season, center Charley Lanasa.

Sophomores: May be the best since 1955, with 48 players up from the freshman ranks and nine who did not participate as sophomores last season. Best bets for starting assignments are LE Ken Herock, RG Bob Fuller and LH Jim Moss, the latter a replica of his brother Bob who was WVU's top ground gainer in the last 20 years.

Backfield: Stronger runners and blockers in Marra, Moss and two other sophomore halfbacks, Tom Woodeschick and Eli Kosanovich. Holdover reserve lettermen at halfbacks are Roger Holdinsky, who ran the 100-yard dash this spring in 10.1 seconds, and Dick Herrig.

Quarterback is a real uncertainty in West Virginia's "T"-with-variations offense. Danny Williams made a national "backfield of the week" selection for leading the great victory over Pitt and showed sparks of this form in spring practice. But the job was won, temporarily at least, by Dale Evans, an ex-GI volunteer for the team who played only 26 minutes last season. Letterman Carmen Pomponio likely will substitute on defense.

At Fullback, Tom Huston had a spring edge over Bob Benke, who led him in time played last year. The linebacking needs improvement. Excepting Holdinsky, the backfield lacks speed.

Line: Should be much better. Ends Herock and Dick Struck may oust Timmerman and Hess. Tackles Bowman and Bill Winter are undersized but tough and supported by big sophomores who will erase the major deficiency of last year's line. Tolley, Fuller and Keith Melenyzer make RG strong but LG was left void by Bill Lopasky's graduation and must be rated weakest position on the team. Lanasa leads a fair group of center aspirants.

Kicking Game: Williams is a fine punter and Bob Lively, an able kickoff man, but the Mountaineers lost ace placekicker Johnny Thackston who provided the margin of two victories with his field goals and led the team in scoring with 18 points.

Passing Game: The weakest part of West Virginia's play last year,

Corum stressed this phase most, offensively and defensively. Team completed less than one-third of its passes for only one touchdown compared to 49 percent and 13 TDs by opposition. The same quarterbacks remain, with Marra, Herock and Timmerman likely targets. Both protection and rushing by the line will be better.

University of Texas

BY WILBUR EVANS

There is no basis for optimism at The University of Texas. Fourteen lettermen from last year's co-championship squad have departed, seven of whom were starters. The exodus included names that have been prominent in Texas' football comeback under Darrell Royal, three of the top four ball carriers of last season (Rene Ramirez, Mike Dowdle, Clair Branch), the leading scorer (Bobby Lackey), the leading passer and goal kicker (Lackey) and an all-American linebacking guard (Maurice Doke). Better ball-carrying and stronger linebacking were the factors most responsible for the remarkable improvement last year, and most of the key figures in those phases have departed. Texas expects another tough defensive team that hits well and one that will have at least average team speed.

Prominent among the returnees will be Co-Capt. Monte Lee, who has been converted from end to guard (a la Doke); Halfback Jack Collins, an outstanding outside runner who led the 1959 team in ball-carrying (5.1 on 89 carries), punting (41.3 on 30), passed well (7 of 11, 97 yards, 1 TD), caught passes well (for 134 yards and 3 TD's) and led the team in touchdown production (7); and Mike Cotten, a letterman quarterback who will carry a big load in rebuilding plans. The team will be quite inexperienced, however, with newcomers providing most of the depth at end, guard, fullback and quarterback. Lettermen are two deep only at the guard, center and halfback spots.

RETURNING 1959 LETTERMEN — 17

- Centers — Jerry Muennink

Quarterbacks — Bobby Lackey
Halfbacks — Rene Ramirez
Fullbacks — Clair Branch, Mike Dowdle, George Blanch, Don Allen

PERSONNEL SUMMARY

Lettermen Lost — 14 (2 ends, 1 tackle, 4 guards, 1 center, 1 quarterback, 1 halfback, 4 fullbacks).
Lettermen Returning — 17 (2 ends, 4 tackles, 2 guards, 2 centers, 1 quarterback, 6 halbacks, 0 fullbacks).
Starters Lost — 7 (0 ends, 1 tackle, 2 guards, 1 center, 1 quarterback, 1 halfback, 1 fullback).
Starters Returning — 4 (2 ends — one now at guard, 1 tackle, 1 left halfback).

Sophomores figured prominently in Texas' fine record last year, especially early in the year when their speed and enthusiasm was a tonic for the veterans. No such life is expected from the newcomers this year, although they will have to man 13 of the top 33 positions.

Duke University

BY TED MANN

A squad that may balance its greenness with flaming desire and that numbers among its members some fine passers, some fine receivers and some fast runners is the picture at Duke University at the close of 20 "snowy" days of off-season drills.

The schedule is another tough one. In a row the Blue Devils face South Carolina, Maryland, Michigan, N. C. State, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Navy, Wake Forest, North Carolina and UCLA.

Losses were heaviest from tackle to tackle where only one starter, Captain-elect and guard Art Browning, returns from the first team; and two, Alternate Captain-elect and center Butch Allie and Tackle Moose Bosson from the second outfit.

COACH BILL MURRAY SAYS:

"We will be greener than usual but we feel that we have a squad with great desire to be successful. We also feel that our offense will be more potent because we have better passers and better receivers and a group of fast runners."

On the bright side Duke will have excellent ends, a fine pair of veteran halfbacks and some promising halfback newcomers, a veteran quarterback and two brilliant sophomore signal-calling prospects.

Due to two reasons more sophomores will play than in many years. The first reason is that the losses were heavy at certain spots. The second is that there are some highly promising newcomers on the squad.

Ends: "Four Lettermen and Excellent Sophomores." This may be Duke's strongest position. Lettermen are Tee Moorman, Bob Spada, Danny Gelbert and Dave Unser and all of them saw much action. Pete Widener, Ed Chesnutt and Steve Kusmus are non-playing reserves from last season who were outstanding in spring drills. Bob Beasley, Zoph Potts and Ronnie Glosson are highly promising boys from the frosh.

Tackles: "Potential Good But Experience Needed." Dave Bosson is the only tackle who saw much action returning. In spring drills Coach Murray shifted Veteran End Dwight Bumgarner to tackle and the 6-6 225 pound giant looks great. Rod Kotchin and Joe Wuchina played enough to win letters. Fred McCollum, John Lomax and John Burger are non-playing reserves. Dave Condon and Art Gregory come up from the frosh and may help.

Guards: "Same as Tackles." Captain-Elect Art Browning is only starter returning from middle of line. He's a really good 'un. Jean Berry, Johnny Markas, Dick Havens, Rex Adams and Danny Roane are non-playing reserves and Dave Dalton a frosh with ability.

Centers: "Same as Tackles and Guards." Alternate Captain-elect Butch Allie returns. He missed the last six contests due to a knee injury in the fourth game. Jan Kneib played enough to letter. Paul Bangel and Sonny Kern were non-playing reserves and looked good in spring drills. Ken Williams, Ken Thompson and John Kruzelyak are three coming from the frosh who may break in.

Quarterbacks: "Good Prospects." Don Altman alternated at the job last year as a sophomore and the ace baseball pitcher looks like a real comer at the job. Walt Rappold, a non-playing reserve, was the big surprise of spring drills doing an excellent job. Gil Garner, Ron Davis and Jerry Stoltz are freshmen with fine possibilities.

Halfbacks: "Depth Problem." Joel Arrington and Jack Wilson, after a year of experience as sophomores, are promising starters. Dean Wright, a highly rated sophomore who was injured most of last season and missed spring drills, and Bob Garda had some experience last season. Gary Wilson, Bobby Wyatt, Danny Bridges and Jack Garbinski come up from the non-playing reserves. A really bright prospect from the frosh is Mark Leggett, a standout in spring drills. Jim Guthrie and Bobby Hawn are another pair of frosh who looked good in off-season drills. Billy Futrell, injured in the fourth game as a frosh last season has a fine reputation but missed spring drills and the coaches are awaiting fall season to see what he can do.

Fullbacks: "Still Looking." The coaches searched all last year and came up with Jerry McGee, a former quarterback(and he looks like the No. 1 man now. Help must come from Red Burch, shifted from halfback where he lettered in 1958 but missed last season after an opening day injury, John Tinnell, who made his letter as a center last season, Roy Bostock, a non-playing reserve shifted from quarterback Jack Bush, who played some last season, and three frosh—Van May, Barry Ramsey and Ray Barnes.

North Carolina State

BY FRANK WEEDON

Quotes from Coach Earle Edwards:

"There are only two departments in football—offense and defense—and I am confident that we will be improved in both this year.

"Last year we finished with a 1-9 record. Five of our losses were by five points or less. It was obvious that we scored one less touchdown than it took to win, and and our opponents scored one too many. During spring practice we attempted to put more punch into our offense and more wallop into our defense. I noted improvements in both phases.

"If we can keep our present personnel off the casualty list throughout the 60 season, we will have a lot more experience than we had a year ago, especially at quarterback and end. We have some good football players on our squad. Only time will tell whether or not we have enough good players to do the job.

"We have 17 lettermen returning. Ten of these players will be on the first team and six will be on the second unit. The remaining monogram winner is a boy who has been shifted to a new position and is working his way up the ladder.

"In Roman Gabriel we have an excellent quarterback. He is as good a passer as there is in college football and, as a sophomore last year, showed poise and a desire for perfection. He should be ranked with the best.

"Our running attack should be a good one, although we do not have a break-away runner of proven consistency. Players like John Stanton, Al Taylor, Claude Gibson and Randy Harrell, however, are dependable and will hit the 'home run' occasionally. Roger Moore, our sophomore fullback, is a first-rate runner with speed and power to burn and gives us a threat at that position. Fullback Ron Wojcicki, a converted quarterback, will be used extensively.

"Our line shapes up as stronger than last year with a little more speed. Our receivers are better, too.

"Last year we were handicapped at critical times by our own mistakes. We have worked hard to eliminate these errors and have profited from the extra practice."

Clemson College

BY BOB BRADLEY

Coach Frank Howard, who will field his 21st Clemson team this September and mark his 30th year on the Tiger coaching staff, believes he'll have another good team this fall, although the bad weather during the recent spring drills kept the squad inside eight of the 20 practice sessions and many important phases had to be omitted.

The "Baron" counts 28 lettermen right now, but two of those, end Jack Webb and halfback Sonny Quesenberry, might not be able to play their final year. Both were injured during the '58 campaign and were held out last year but their injuries still haven't responded to treatment as expected.

The three strongest positions appear to be end, guard and quarterback. At these three positions are 15 of the lettermen. End and guard have six lettermen each while quartrback has three. There are three lettermen tackles, two centers, four halfbacks and two fullbacks.

Halfback is giving Howard the most worry now. Although there are four experienced men back, just two of them—Harry Pavilack and Jim Wilson—are listed on the first four squads. But there is a lot of promise here from sophomores. Coleman Glaze ran first team most of spring drills and he was backed by Elmo Lam and Mack Matthews. Jimmy Hardwick should lend a helping hand here also.

Only three boys who started the Bluebonnet Bowl against Texas Christian are back. These are Sam Anderson and Gary Barnes at ends and Dave Lynn at guard. But Howard lost only one member of the alternate unit which saw as much action as the opening eleven, and most of the members of this team have moved up to a starting slot.

Ends — Sam Anderson, Gary Barnes, Ed Bost, Ronnie Crolley, Tommy King, Jack Webb Emil Zager

Tackles — Morris Keller, Jimmy King, Ronnie Osborne
Guards — Lon Armstrong, Sam Crout, Tommy Gue, Dave Lynn, Dave Olson, Calvin West
Centers — Ron Andreo, Jack Veronee
Quarterbacks — Johnnie Mac Goff, Don Heilig, Lowndes Shingler
Halfbacks — Bob Coleman, Harry Pavilack, Sonny Quesenberry, Harold Smith, Jim Wilson
Fullbacks — Wendall Black, Ron Scrudato

Wake Forest College

BY MARVIN FRANCIS

With at least two lettermen available at every position with the exception of left end, right guard and fullback the outlook for the 1960 season is an optimistic one. Provided there are no major losses due to injuries or scholastic trouble the 1960 club should be equally as strong as the 1959 team which compiled a 6-4 record for the first winning season at Wake Forest since 1955. Coach Bill Hildebrand inherited a squad which included seven men who drew starting assignments in the final game of 1959 against South Carolina.

Heading the list of returnees is quarterback Norman Snead, a 6-4, 200-pound senior, who finished fifth in the nation in total offense last fall.

The major trouble spots at the present are fullback and guard. Joe Bonecutter is the lone letterman fullback while Bennett Williamson is the only experienced man at right guard.

Hildebrand will remain with the same wide-open style of play, featuring two lonely ends, which proved so popular last fall.

LETTERMEN LOST FROM 1959 SQUAD (6):
Ends — Pete Manning, Sam Reese
Guards — Nick Patella, Larry Fleisher
Center — Buck Jolly
Fullback — Neil MacLean.

STARTERS RETURNING FROM 1959 SQUAD (7):
Right End — Bobby Allen (two-year letterman)
Right Tackle — Wayne Wolff (two-year letterman; club's top punter)
Left Tackle — Al Conover (two-year letterman)
Quarterback — Norman Snead (two-year letterman; one of nation's top passers)
Right Halfback — Jerry Ball (two-year letterman).

PROMISING NEWCOMERS: Although the 1959 freshman squad failed to win in five games, Coach Hildebrand feels several boys off that squad will furnish good reserve depth this season. In addition he has several boys who were held out of varsity competition last year. Perhaps the outstanding newcomer is Kent Martin, a 6-3, 250-pound center, who transferred to Wake Forest after playing as a freshman at The Citadel.

Other boys who did not play last season, but are being counted on for the 1960 campaign include end Henry Newton, guards Wesley Cox and Tom Hartman and fullbacks Bruce McDonnell and Craven Williams.

University of South Carolina

BY RED CANUP

Before delving into the chances of the University of South Carolina in 1960 football warfare, a reference must first be made to the old football provrb, "Measure your strength by that of your opponents."

And the strength of the Gamecocks' 1960 opponents will be the strongest ever because they will embark next fall on the most fearsome schedule in the history of the school. A schdule which includes such powers as LSU, Miami, North Carolina, Duke and Orange Bowl champion Georgia.

With the above schedule in mind, Coach Warren Giese looks at his available material, which includes only three starters back from the 1959 team which posted a winning 6-4 record despite a plague of injuries, with a bit of uncertain enthusiasm—uncertain in terms of depth and experience.

Although 15 lettermen were lost, 27 return to the Gamecock fold plus a host of eager sophomores.

Among these 27 returnees are three linemen who should be serious candidates for all-star honors next season. They are tackle Sam Fewell, guard Jake Bodkin and end Jerry Frye.

Graduation dealt the tackle and fullback positions the hardest blow taking such aces as fullbacks John Saunders and Phil Lavoie, tackles Bill Jerry, Kirk Phares and All-ACC choice, Ed Pitts.

The Gamecocks have come up with another tough line in keeping with past tradition and the starting forward wall should be able to stack up against any in the conference next year.

At left end co-captain Frye returns with 6-3, 217, Conley Taylor backing him up. On the other side, seasoned campaigner Jack Pitt, 220, rates as a top pass receiver with Junior Bob Drost, a 6-4, 220-pounder, adding depth.

Fewell, of course, gives right tackle the star mark, but Harold Jones and Dwaine Godfrey, who back him up, need experience. Left tackle is supported by two consistent performers in Wayne Shiflet, 228, and Frank Staley, 220. Staley appeared to have the edge at the end of spring drills.

The right guard spot is well equipped with all star candidate Bodkin, a rugged 220-pound ex-paratrooper and co-captain of the 1960 squad. Behind him are two capable performers—Dave Adam, 190, and Howard Sohm, 220.

The smallest starter in the line ranks, Don Miles, 190, left guard, looking impressive in spring drills but was pushed by senior Ken Derriso and junior Lane Lowder.

With Jim Nemeth, 6-2, 230, and Jim McGovern, 215 the Gamecocks will have size like they've never had before at center but lack sufficient experienced depth here. Nemeth qualified himself as a starter in spring drills but McGovern could still move in.

In the backfield is experienced talent at quarterback but fullback boasts only one veteran, Bob Farmer, a senior, and the questionable halfback posts are ruled by juniors and sophomores.

In Jim Costen the Gamecocks have come up with one of their best field generals in a long time. Seniors Buddy Bennett and Harvey Shiflet along with junior Dave Sowell offer unlimited backing for Costen.

The fullback spot is wide open with either Farmer or sophomores Dick Day, Carl Huggins and Jack Beason slated for a starting job.

The field should tilt to one side next year with the types of halfbacks that have come up in the Gamecock Roost.

Billy Gambrell, another sophomore, could push Kilrea right out of a starting job. This Athens, Ga. 175-pounder was the sensation of the annual Varsity vs. Alumni spring game when he almost single handedly won it with a 51-yard touchdown run through the middle of the star-studded alumni line.

With one last gaze into the crystal ball, it looks like South Carolina's 1960 football fortunes will depend on the progress of the backs, but the Gamecocks will no doubt counter their lack of experience in the backfield with a few new offensive surprises that could once again make them an Atlantic Coast Conference title contender.

Penn State University

BY JIM TARMAN

Of the two major problems faced by coach Rip Engle this year—development of a quarterback corps and the rebuilding of his interior line—spring drills appear to have solved at least the quarterbaek situation.

Although the loss of All-American Richie Lucas is bound to hurt, the quarterback position seemed to be in capable hands by the close of spring practice. There was little to choose between Galen Hall, who was superb as Lucas' understudy in 1959, and Dick Hoak, converted from the No. 1 left halfback position he held for two years. Their battle for the first string assignment will continue in September, and no matter who wins, Engle should have no problems at quarterback on his first two teams. Both are fine runners and probably the equal of Lucas as passers. Neither will touch Lucas as a defensive player, although both do an acceptable job. The third string spot will go to Pete Liske or Dick Groben, both newcomers.

The interior line, where graduation took three of the top four 1959 guards (Earl Kohlhaas, Frank Koorbini, Sam Stellatella, aand three of the top four tackles (Andy Stynchula, Charles Janerette, Tom Mulraney), remains a problem. Engle was especially concerned by the ineffeetive blocking of his interior linemen which hampered the inside running attack throughout most of the spring sessions.

The one real bright spot on the interior line is right guard Bill Popp, voted the most improved player during spring drills.

With Popp, tackle Stew Barber, and center Jay Huffman (who missed much of spring practice because of a leg injury) the only thoroughly tested players at their positions, Engle came up with wholesale position switching this spring, moving end Bill Saul to guard and then to center, center Wayne Berfield (who missed the 1959 season because of injury) to guard, acc frosh end Dave Robinson to tackle, and fullback Bob Hart to guard. Dick Wilson, second string center in '59, missed the last half of spring practice because of a thumb fracture and probably will be shifted to guard or tackle.

Berfield probably will join Popp as first unit guards, and Barber will team with Jim Smith (a non-letterman who played a total of 32 minutes last year) at tackle, but Engle must turn to newcomers for reserve tackle, guard, and center strength.

Coupled with the interior line problem is a questionable linebacking situation. Berfield, who has not played in a varsity game since 1958, and Huffman probably are the best of the lot, but neither equals the rugged line-backers of past seasons.

On the plus side, spring drills gave evidence of an improved passing attack, a strong end corps, improved punting and, despite the lack of interior line blocking a potentially strong rushing attack.

The end corps is deep (graduation took only second stringer Norm Neff), and includes veterans Bob Mitinger, Henry Oppermann, John Bozick, Dave Alexander, and Dave Truitt. Mitinger shared laurels with Popp as the most talked-about players in spring camp, and rates definite All-Sectional and All-American possibilities, if not this year, certainly next. The coaches say he could become State's best flanker in a decade.

An improved end corps coupled with the spring passing of Hall, Hoak, and Liske should mean more and better passing in 1960, and possibly an even more wide-open attack than the spectacular one directed by Lucas last year. Combine this with a potentially potent running game, and the Nittany Lions could present a well-balanced attack from their Multiple-T offense.

A veteran corps of running backs will return (graduation took only third-stringer Jack Urban), headed by halfbacks Roger Kochman (who skipped spring drills for baseball), Jim Kerr, Dick Pae, and Eddie Caye, and fullbacks Sam Sobczak and Dennis Schaeffer. Add promising newcomers Al Gursky, Buddy Torris, Dave Hayes, and Hal Powell, the ground shapes up as a strong one in spite of any offensive-line shortcomings.

University of North Carolina

BY JAKE WADE

Twenty-one lettermen, including seven of the men who started last season's wind-up game with Duke, are slated to be on hand when the University of North Carolina opens its 1960 football campaign.

Many of the "name" players of the past few seasons, such as Jack Cummings, Al Goldstein, Don Klochak, Wade Smith, Don Stallings and "Moose" Butler have departed, but there are enough sound holdovers along with a crop of bright newcomers, to justify quiet optimism among the Tar Heel loyalists.

Coach Jim Hickey is building his second UNC team around Rip Hawkins, a brilliant senior linebacker from Cowan, Tenn., who is expected to be a prime All-American candidate. The team should be strong down the middle, with three outstanding fullbacks in Bob Elliott, Joe Davies and George Knox, and highly promising quarterbacks in Ray Farris, Ward Marslender and John Flournoy.

Farris, who split duty with Cummings last season, is the only experienced signal caller, but Marslender, who was not used in 1959 and is a football sophomore, showed so much potential in spring practiee that his duel with Farris for the starting job—will be one of the intriguing aspects of the team this fall. Flournoy is a tough little fellow, ineligible as a transfer in 1959, who is ready to step in if either falters.

Hickey, restrained and eonservative in eomments about prospects, can see a decided lack of depth in the guard and end positions. Also, the Tar Heels are yet to turn up another really outstanding halfback although the backs performed with distinction in the Blue-White game. They are sure to be solid and may develop to the flashy plane. "I suspect we will miss Wade Smith more than any other player," says Hickey. Smith was the best of the Tar Heel halfbacks the past two seasons, hard nosed and solid as they come.

The Tar Heels, with five experienced tackles and at least one sophomore (Tony Hennessey) of exceptionable promise, appear to be best fortified in that vital area than at any time reeently.

In addition to Hennessey, Marslender and Flournoy, neweomers who appear most likely to succeed this fall, based on spring praetice, are eenter Joe Craver, guard Duff Greene, halfback Jimmy Addison and big tackle Don Scott, who has been around but has never played.

COACH JIM HICKEY SAYS: "We stressed fundamentals in our off-season praetice and we feel that we made some progress although bad weather greatly hampered our work. Our players worked and hit hard and that made us feel good. I certainly will be disappointed if it isn't a sounder and more consistent team than last year. It may be faster, too, and of course speed is one of our big objectives.

"We have two fine co-eaptains in Rip Hawkins and Frank Riggs. We will depend heavily on them to help us come up with a team that will represent the University well."

University of Virginia

BY DICK TURNER

With 26 lettermen, larger in total number of members and individual size and faster in team speed, the University of Virginia football squad has more of everything for 1960. By comparison, last year's squad had seven lettermen and about half as many 200-pounders. Here is the rundown:

ENDS—Rating: Greatly improved. Returning lettermen: John Barger, 198; Terry Canale, 198; Brerry Jones, 190; Edward Menzer, 190; Kenneth Sappington, 208. Barger moves to end after two seasons of regular backfield play, mostly for defensive purposes. Jones was a game starter all last season, several taking turns at the other end. Leading sophomores: Dennis Andrews, 202; Jim Hedgepeth, 205; Joe Kehoe, 187. Lettermen lost: Smythe Wood and Dick Hunton.

TACKLES—Rating: Greatly improved and strongest division. Returning lettermen: Richard Fogg, 220; Lee Fracker, 192; Ronald Gassert, 235; Jan Kamfjord, 222; Bill Kanto, 218; Henry Koehler, 230; John Marlow, 210. First team regulars last year were Gassert and Marlow: Leading sophomores: Frank Gildner, 210, and John Linn, 212. Lettermen lost: Roger Zensen.

GUARDS—Rating: Improved. Returning lettermen: Jerry Gonyo, 188;

Frank Hamilton, 192; Louis Martig, 205; Glenn Sacco, 186; Emory Thomas, 200. First unit regulars last year were Martig and Thomas. Leading sophomores: Robert Rowley, 210; Turnley Todd, 210; Francis McComas, 190; James Ayres, 200. Lettermen lost: None.

CENTER—Rating: Improved but problems could arise. Returning lettermen: None. Returning non-lettermen: Ted Green, 210; Park Plank, 218. Leading sophomores Bill Lang, 220; Henry Moran, 210; Alfred Alznauer, 210. Lettermen lost: Bob Edwards.

QUARTERBACK—Rating: Much improved. Returning lettermen: Arnold Dempsey, 183; Stanford Fischer, 178. Last year's quarterbacks were Dempsey, Fischer and Wayne Ballard, who has joined halfbacks. Leading sophomore: Gary Cuozzo, 195. Lettermen lost: None.

HALFBACKS—Rating: Improved. Returning lettermen: Wayne Ballard, 167; Joe Board, 160; Hunter Faulconer, 170; Edward Ferris, 165; Fred Trainor, 165. Barger and Tom Gravins were the first team halfbacks last year. Leading sophomores: Carl Kuhn, 180; Ted Rzempoluch, 195; Robert Freeman, 175; Willard Wentz, 170. Lettermen lost; Tom Gravins.

FULLBACKS—Rating: Improved. Returning lettermen: Fred Shepherd, 185; Tony Ulehla, 195. Shepherd was usual starter last year. Leading sophomores: Tom Griggs, 190; Mike Kudzma, 215. Lettermen lost: Harold Rust.

He won letters in football and baseball four years, with freshmen eligible to play then.

For his brilliant play, honors were many. He was on the all-State Florida colleges team his junior and senior year. He was named as all-America honorable mention his senior year, a most cherished honor inasmuch as Corso was the first Florida State football player to receive that high rating in the history of the school. He was voted the National Player of the Week by INS for his sterling performance in guiding the upset over N.C. State. He was voted the "Back of the Week" honors among Florida schools several times. His grid career was capped by his winning the Athlete of the Year award at Florida State. The 23-year-old Corso also played in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery as quarterback. At FSU, he set the total rushing record; most pass interceptions one game, 3; pass receiving record for one game, 8, as he played halfback part of his second season; and has the high mark for kickoff return average for a season, 35 yards.

On the diamond, Corso was an all-State and all-District 3 outfielder. With the Seminoles, he played in the District 3 playoffs two years. He hit .400 as a freshman.

Corso was voted a member of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), national men's honorary leadership fraternity and Phi Delta Kappa, national education honorary. He graduated in June '57 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education.

Nugent appointed him assistant coach following graduation. He pursued his Master's Degree and received it in August 1958 in Education and Administration.

He married the former Betsy Youngblood, Tampa, Fla. They have one son, Steven Lee, age 2.

Duke Wyre

Wyre was trainer at Yale for 15 years before he moved to Holy Cross for another year. Then in '47 he came to Maryland and has been head trainer ever since.

A Navy veteran, Wyre served as physical education instructor in the V-12 program.

He was the first president of the Southern Conference Trainers' Assn. He previously has been on the board of the National Trainers' Assn. and now his most recent appointment, Chairman of the Board. In '49, he was named the top trainer in the East.

junior and senior seasons. He graduated in June of 1949. Reid was Captain of the team his senior year and was first team all-Southeast Conference and the all-Southern team. He was president of the varsity letterman "G" Club and of the Student Athletic Council. His teammates voted him the most valuable lineman trophy for his outstanding play his senior year.

Following graduation, he went to Fitzgerald High School, Ga., as line coach. He was there one year before moving on to the line coaching job at Albany High in 1950. In 1951, he was appointed head coach, and held that position until Nugent brought him to Maryland. At Albany, he compiled the enviable record of 57 wins, 20 losses, and three ties in a Triple-A league. His teams won the Region 1, AAA crown three years and was runnerup to the state championship in 1952. He was voted region Coach of the Year twice. He points with justifiied pride at the great number of his boys that have gone on to college and done exceptionally well.

Reid married the former Kathryn Herold of Hamilton. They have two daughters, Karolyn, 11, and Paula 8.

was discharged in January of 1946.

He returned to Vanderbilt for the spring term of '46. He was elected Captain of the team for his senior year. He won third team all-America honors and first team all-Southeast Conference. He graduated in June of '47 with a Bachelor of Science in History.

Satterfiield then went to the San Francisco 49'ers and played tackle for one year.

In 1948, he coached at Little Rock Catholic High School. The fall of 1949 he got the call to be an assistant coach at Louisiana State and stayed two years. It was in the spring of 1951 that he went to V.P.I. and stayed until the call to College Park.

He married the former Bobbie Sue Wright of Forest City, Ark. They have a daughter, Susan, age 8.

TERP THUMBNAIL SKETCHES

ENDS

GARY COLLINS, 20, 6-3, 205, Junior from Williamstown, Pa.—the Terp's brilliant all-America candidate . . . is one of the few ends at Maryland to ever establish himself nationally as a soph . . . is being tabbed by early season experts as one of the country's leading candidates for top honors, and as a junior . . . the lean Collins set himself up for national acclaim with a brilliant debut last fall as a soph . . . having caught 14 passes last season for 350 yards, he is a sure bet to eclipse the Terp season pass receiving mark of 32 . . . with the Maryland offense patterned after the wide open pass offense, the set-up is ideal for Collins . . . for his great play last year, Collins received all-America honorable mention from the AP and UPI and second team all-conference, AP . . . also given second place on all-Area team selected by Washington Post . . . for his standout game in the upset win over Clemson when he caught two td passes, the second a magnificent grab for the winning score, he was named "Atlantic Coast Conference Sophomore of the Week" and was runnerup as "National Lineman of the Week" . . . during the season, he was high on the national lineman list four weeks . . . at the present time, he definitely is the finest pass receiving end Maryland ever has had . . . he has a great pair of hands and is one of the most spectacular type receivers in football today . . . it is a rarity when he drops the ball . . . has fine speed and has the uncanny way of getting in the open, completely puzzling his defenders . . . if a defender is on him, you can almost be sure he will come up with the ball . . . he did many times last year with more than one hanging on him . . . seems easy for him to get behind the secondary . . . will certainly be the main target for Terp passes . . . Collins also has exceptional strength defensively . . . does a fine job rushing the passer and is hard to block out of the way . . . is a real hard and sure tackler . . . the outstanding all-around star also is the Terps' top punter . . . he had a 39.4 average last season for 32 punts, second best in the ACC . . . his kicks are the high booming type with good distance . . . his 14 receptions for 350 yards gave him a 25-yard average, best in the ACC as well as best for the team . . . was a three-sport star at Williamstown High . . . came to Maryland after having offers from a great number of schools . . . was all-Conference his junior and senior year . . . was all-Twin Valley selection . . . honorable mention all-State . . . was all-Conference basketball player . . . star baseball player also. . . sure to have an outstanding year . . . married and has a son . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

VINCENT SCOTT, 21, 5-11, 190, Senior from Wilmington, Del.—undoubtedly the most serious and hardest worker on the team, Scott will be at the right end spot for the Terps, the third consecutive season he has been a first team end . . . one of the most highly sought after stars ever to enroll at Maryland . . . has had two brilliant years for the Terps . . . this could be his finest, and probably will . . . is one of the very best all-around players Maryland has had . . . with Collins, he gives the Terps two of the finest ends in college ball this season . . . along with his stellar end play, Scott has established himself as one of the nation's best place-kickers . . . he is a fabulous field goal kicker . . . in West Virginia opener last season, he kicked three and a fourth just went under the cross-bar . . . the three tied the national collegiate modern record of three per game . . . Scott's kicks were for 38, 41, and 48 yards . . . the 48-yard boot set a new school and ACC mark . . . he tied the modern record held by Mississippi's Paige Cothren kicked in 1956 for 26, 27, and 35 yards, so Scott holds the distance mark . . . the former two-year all-State selection from Salesianum High is an outstanding two-way end . . . he is an excellent receiver who runs like a back after he catches the ball . . . has good speed and power . . . one of the finest defensively . . . with his all-around end play and his stalwart kicking talent, the pro scouts already have placed him high on their list for this year's draft . . . the "Toe" commands great respect from all, for his kicking talent can mean a field goal for the Terps any time they get near the goal and could use the three points . . . he can hit from as far out as 45 yards and anything inside the 25 can almost be counted on . . . too, his kickoffs get to the goal line and often times into the end zone . . . has great spirit, eagerness, and desire . . . caught 11 for 147 yards for two touchdowns . . . second top scorer with 34 points . . . 2 td's, 3 field goals and 11 of 15 extra points . . . caught 2 as a soph . . . was all-State in 1955 and 1956 . . . was on the all-America high school team of '56 as well as the all-Catholic second team . . . was a star basketball, baseball, and track performer at Salesianum . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

HENRY PONIATOWSKI, 26, 6-1, 190, Junior from Syracuse, N. Y.—another of the real fine lettermen returning to the end corps . . . had a fine freshman year then had a very outstanding debut last fall as a soph . . . is battling hard all the time . . . fine two-way end . . . has exceptional defensive play . . . hard to get around . . . likes it good and rough . . . fine receiver . . . had a most impressive spring practice . . . caught the ball with more sureness . . . snagged 8 for 102 yards and two scores as a soph . . . "Hank" is the "Dad" of the Terp squad . . . following his graduation from Eastwood High and a year's work, he served four years in the Army . . . he came to Maryland from nearby Fort Lee . . . his visits to the campus were many while in the Service . . . he was first team all-Army as an end and on the Washington Post first All-Service team . . . a fine competitor with tremendous desire and determination . . . can be depended on for another top performance and a fine year . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

NORMAN KAUFMAN, 21, 6-0, 185, Senior from Brooklyn, N. Y.—the hard-working senior returns after a fine junior year during which he gave a fine performance . . . is a real good two-way player . . . does a most creditable job defensively . . . a good receiver, although his tally for '59 was one caught for nine yards . . . however, it was a big one in the Terp's scoring drive against the Tar Heels . . . had a fine spring practice . . . caught the ball well . . . will be a big help to the pass conscious Terps . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

ANDY TERIFAY, 19, 6-1, 185, Sophomore from Philadelphia, Pa.—and they just keep coming to Maryland from Bishop Neumann High School . . . and now with another of their all-time greats to wear the Red and White for three years, Nugent and Maryland can be pleased to have Terifay add to the glory of a pair of great predecessors from his high school, Jim Joyce and Pat Drass . . . if the fine looking and highly sought after Terifay lives up to his reputation and plays like he can and Joyce did and Drass is doing, Bishop Neumann could become the Terps' all-time high school alma mater for national recognition . . . Terifay had a brilliant career as a halfback and had a most impressive freshman year for the Terps . . . playing right half from the "I," he led the pass receivers with ten and one score . . . he was moved to end during spring drills . . . looked real good . . . has fine speed runs hard and has fine balance and change of pace . . will be vying for a lot of action this fall . . . has a fine pair of hands . . . strong defensively . . . good pass defender also . . . the highly regarded Terifay was all-America in High School as well as all-Catholic . . . was named to the all-City team two years and was honorable mention all-State his senior year . . . a fine basketball and baseball player also . . . was second team all-Catholic in basketball . . . was Student Council Vice-President . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

ED ROG, 19, 6-0, 190, Sophomore from Binghamton, N. Y.—a real fine prospect that seems certain to become one of the future stars for the Terps . . . had a sensational high school record as a halfback as he won all-America honorable mention . . . looked like one of the best in a long time as a freshman, playing halfback . . . like Terifay, he was moved to end during spring drills because of his exceptional speed, blocking and pass catching abilities . . . caught seven as the Terps' right half last fall, one for a score . . . plays a fine all-around game . . . a real fine receiver and one who can go with the ball . . . has a hard to stop running style . . . had a real good spring practice and will be a great help for the pass offense . . . Nugent and staff counting heavily on a big year from Rog . . . was also named to the all-Triple Cities first team in New York . . . was a standout basketball and baseball player also . . . lettered four years in all sports . . . was Most Valuable Player of his team and all-Triple Cities his junior and senior year in both . . . in School of Physical Education.

MIKE WING, 20, 6-2, 190, Sophomore from Allentown, Pa.—another of the really outstanding newcomers up from the freshman team . . . highly rated as a future star who promises to come through as one of the big names in Terp football . . . a brilliant prospect who brought with him from Allentown High a brilliant past . . . after watching him perform as a frosh and in spring drills, Wing seems certain to inscribe his name into the select long list of Terp greats . . . he has all the equipment, mental and physical to assist his goal . . . he is a terrific pass receiver . . . he makes fine effort for the ball . . . caught six last fall, one for score . . . does outstanding job defensively . . . was the most outstanding end defensively . . . a fine pass rusher . . . Wing also was baby Terps top punter . . . average near 40 yards . . . will bear close watching . . . was a first team all-State in high school . . . was a member of the "Big 33" team, the cream of the crop in Penna. . . . won best lineman award at Allentown and was named the school's "Athlete of the Year" . . . was also basketball and track star . . . top point man in track . . . has a brother, Tom, at William and Mary . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

TACKLES

BILL KIRCHIRO, 20, 6-1, 215, Junior from Basking Ridge, N. J.—following a fabulous sophomore year, Kirchiro is the top tackle to return to the Terp line . . . in fact, he is one of the top tackles in football today . . . he has all the potential which he used last fall to become another of the very great tackles that adorn the elite list of tackles that have given Maryland such outstanding play in the past . . . with another two years to go, it seems a cinch that the strapping blonde will do it . . . he excelled as a freshman then returned last season to give an almost unbelievable effort as a soph . . . Bill is one of the strongest tackles ever at Maryland and he uses this facility with exceptional finesse and know-how . . . those who played against him last season all rated him as one of the best . . . an outstanding football player with exceptional ability both offensively and defensively . . . has fine reactions which help him pursue the play so well, allowing him to come through for so many tackles, many of which are key tackles . . . picturesque blocker . . . a hard worker who wants to do well, and should . . . should be in line for early all-star honors . . . was all-County and on all-Sectional state championship team at Bernards High . . . lettered four years in track . . . holds shot put record . . . in School of Arts and Science.

DICK BARLUND, 20, 6-4, 210, Junior from Woodbridge, N. J.—came through last season as soph and made tremendous impression . . . played real good football . . . caught Nugent and staff's eye as a potentially real good one and got a lot of experience and looked good getting it . . . has an excellent chance to be one of the best . . . has gained a world of confidence with his play of '59 and a fine spring practice . . . will be hard to beat now . . . gained the starting assignment in spring drills and aims to keep it . . . the rangy Barlund has good speed and quick reactions . . . does a good job blocking . . . works hard defensively . . . works hard and takes coaching easily . . . should be a real big asset to the tackle corps . . . is the son of the famous boxer, Gunnar Barlund . . . was all-County at Woodbridge . . . also lettered in basketball and baseball, making the all-County selection in basketball . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

TOM SANKOVICH, 20, 6-0, 200, Junior from Uniontown, Pa.—following an outstanding debut last fall as a soph, the brilliant play of Sankovich is expected to be much more noticeable this season as he will be one of the main hopes at the tackle spot . . . has played at guard also and can play both spots well . . . a fine competitor who wants to play every minute and on the first unit . . . he will be doing battle to get the job and could . . . a real good all-around football player . . . came to Maryland as a top prospect with high rating . . . he has brightened the rating with his shining play . . . likes to "knock" and hit somebody . . . strong defensively . . . spectacular type tackler . . . is quick, pursues well . . . fine blocker . . . will be one to watch to make big hit on Terp line . . . was first team all-County . . . second team all-Western Pennsylvania . . . an all-State honorable mention . . . class officer . . . was most valuable player senior year in football and baseball and also lettered in basketball . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

IRVIN FAUNCE, 21, 6-2, 210, Junior from Silver Spring, Md.—with an old injury which kept him out last season healed, and a most commendable spring practice, it looks as though the big conscientious local boy could lend a big hand to the lettermen tackles . . . Faunce has the size and speed to step in and play a lot of ball . . . does well defensively . . . also fine punter . . . he could answer the call for some needed help . . . was all-State second team . . .all-Metropolitan second team . . . all bi-County first team . . . won the Cushman award his senior year as the outstanding football player at Blair High . . . also lettered in basketball and track . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

TERRY BILLINGSLEY, 19, 6-2, 205, Sophomore from Bethesda, Md.—to Billingsley belongs the distinction of the modern football era of "just coming out for the team,"—and making it . . . this doesn't happen too often these days . . . but the big hard-working rookie came into the freshman camp last fall and raised many an eyebrow as he won a starting berth for the opening game of the season . . . he continued to play good ball and is now being counted on to give a good account of himself this fall and help the varsity tackle corps . . . has good speed and is tough defensively . . . fine competitor with desire and determination . . . was a three sport star at Bethesda Chevy Chase High . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

ROGER SHOALS, 21, 6-4, 225, Sophomore from Norwalk, Conn.—came to Maryland in 1957 and after a brilliant frosh year went into the Army . . . returned last fall and sat out the year . . . has caught the eye of Nugent and staff as the one who could really come through and make the tackle position a very good and comfortable one . . . has tremendous physical potential . . . a lot of good things seen in spring drills and it was a daily battle with the others for the first team job . . . will be out to take it this fall . . .size, speed, and strength could be of much needed help . . . does good job offensively and defensively both . . . moves well for his size . . . could develop into fine big tackle . . . game experience early will help . . . star athlete at Norwalk High . . . married . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

GORDON BENNETT, 20, 6-3, 230, Sophomore from Vienna, Va.—here is a newcomer up from the freshman team that before too many days or games could "take it all"—is one of the finest and biggest tackle prospects to come along in some time . . . he already has been eyed by the pros for the future . . . his size hasn't been the lone attraction . . . he came up with a strong showing last fall as first team tackle . . . made a tremendous impression . . . has exceptional strength . . . has agility for his size . . . a fine blocker and sure tackler . . . likes to mix it up . . . offers outstanding potential to be one of the best . . . held in high regard by coaching brass . . . will be one to watch as a future star . . . he could make it . . . was all-northern Virginia at Fairfax High and honorable mention all-state . . . lettered in track also . . . in Arts and Science School, majoring in Pre-Dentistry.

CHESTER DETKO, 20, 6-2, 210, Sophomore from East Rutherford, N. J.—another of the outstanding big tackles up from the freshman team . . . expected to be another also who will make a brilliant debut for the Terps . . . should be one of the top candidates to give that big lift he is capable of doing . . . did a fine job for the frosh . . . . a serious, hard-working competitor with tremendous desire to play . . . has the physical faculties to enable him to exploit early in his career possible brilliant play . . . the Terp staff would like nothing better than to have the big boy come through for them early this year . . . is a fine blocker and is most noticeable on defense . . . will be given good chance to battle it out with the boys in front of him and should make the grade . . . was all-State at East Rutherford High . . . all-Metropolitan . . . all-County, and all-Passaic-Bergen . . . also lettered three years in track . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

NORMAN HATFIELD, 20, 6-4, 220, Sophomore from Altoona, Pa.—one of the really finest looking prospects to hit the Maryland camp last fall . . . the tall highly sought after star from Altoona High is another of the very fine tackles to come into the Terp picture for the future . . . did an outstanding job for the baby Terps and continued to impress during spring practice . . . he's a fine competitor who likes to play football and likes to have it rough and tough . . . gets over-anxious at times . . . digs in tough on defense and a fine tackler . . . has good speed with quick reactions . . . he will be given an extra special long look in early practice . . . Hatfield will be making his every effort a startling one in order to make the grade early, which he could do . . . definitely one to watch for future stardom in seasons hence . . . was honorable mention all-State . . . was a member of the "Big 33" team. Pennsylvania's high school best his senior year . . . a member of Who's Who in American High Schools and was class president three years . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

GUARDS

PETE BOINIS, 23, 5-10, 200, Senior from Washington, D. C. — ounce for ounce pound for pound, the explosive watch charm type guard leads the corps of guards as the only letterman at the position as fall practice started and the only guard with more than a minute game experience . . . of course, Boinis has had two full years of brilliant game experience and represents one of Maryland's finest guards . . . he is the spectacular type interior lineman that is most noticeable on every play . . . he works tirelessly and is probably the most aggressive returning line veteran . . . has a powerful offensive charge as he blasts out with his exceptional strength . . . does a magnificent job defensively also . . . has good speed and a fine football mind . . . takes great pride in his work on the field, both in the games and during practice . . . is one of the hardest workers on the squad . . . wants to play every minute . . . definitely has chance to have a great year and make himself heard from around the league . . . came to Maryland following his hitch in the service . . . lettered at Woodrow Wilson high and Bullis prep in baseball also . . . was a standout guard at Bullis . . . his brother John was on the freshman team last fall and a top candidate for future Terp elevens . . . in School of Education, majoring in Industrial Education.

TOM BROUMEL, 21, 5-10, 200, Sophomore from Bel Air, Md.—the powerful guard hopeful that Nugent and staff are even more hopeful that he comes through as they believe he can to give the Terps strength at the critically inexperienced guard position . . . following a standout freshman year, he was on the B squad last fall and gained great experience that carried over through spring drills when he continued to look ready to get the nod for a starting berth . . . with a group of candidates battling for the other starting job, it was a keen battle during spring practice . . . it will continue this fall . . . will be watched closely since he has the potential of becoming a fine one for the Terps . . . his play needed . . . a fine two-way player . . . was all Bi-County at Bel Air High . . . honorable mention all-State . . . also lettered in lacrosse . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

GARY JANKOWSKI, 20, 5-11, 185, Sophomore from Burlington, N. J.—another of the highly touted guards coming up after a year on the B squad following a fine freshman season . . . one of the real top competitors who likes to mix it up . . . had a most impressive spring practice as he, with the other upcoming sophomores, is vying with all he's worth for the other starting assignment . . . he was in and out of it during spring drills, so he is to get inside track for top duty . . . hard worker with intense desire to play . . . has exceptional strength for his size . . . a real tough ball player . . . will be one to watch . . . the entire Terp camp hopes he comes through with a big year . . . was all-Burlington County . . . honorable mention all-State, Group III . . . on South Jersey first team . . . class officer . . . . also lettered in track . . . took first place in county pole vault meet and third in discus . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

JACK REILLY, 20, 6-1, 185, Sophomore from Philadelphia, Pa.—joins Broumel and Jankowski as the trio of fine guard candidates coming up from the B squad on whom Nugent is counting and most hopeful will come through with excellence and top performances for this all-important battle that should be most intense . . . with the others, Reilly is a fine two-way player with tremendous desire and determination . . . a very explosive tough competitor . . . a serious hard worker who likes contact . . . a strong tackler . . . has good speed to accompany his zealous all-around ability . . . was all-Catholic at Father Judge High . . . captain of the football team his senior year . . . class officer . . . also lettered in track . . . in School of Education.

JOE HREZO, 18, 5-10, 185, Sophomore from New Salem, Pa.—here is a boy who hit the Maryland campus last fall with a great impact, made a magnificent reputation from Uniontown High School stand up, and now is about to set out on what could be one of the most brilliant gridiron careers in Maryland history . . . at least that is what is predicted of him by Nugent and his staff . . . their prediction isn't just prejudice . . . the five opponents the baby Terps faced all labeled Hrezo as an outstanding upcoming star . . . and the baby Terps themselves all echoed the same . . . with his size, the likeable Hrezo becomes even more of a fabulous candidate for future stardom . . . . there have been a number of great guards at College Park in the modern era of so many national stars, and there is reason to place the lithe hard-working Hrezo on that list early, just as the others had been . . . he was brilliant as a freshman playing first team guard and looked exceptional in spring practice . . . with the guard position open on one side, he set out to win the spot, and did . . .at the close of practice he was first team, battling the other promising candidates . . . although the competition is going to be fierce this season, Nugent undoubtedly will go along with his brilliant protege who has come through so well for him . . . veteran observers and followers of the Terrapins were quick to liken and compare Hrezo with a former Terp that is considered Maryland's all-time great. Bob Ward . . . the former Terp gained all-America twice and fostered the identical mannerisms and play in his early days as a Terp as has been observed of Hrezo . . . Ward was 5-10 and played at 182-185 . . . the Terp soph is the same size . . . to be likened to him is quite a challenge and going out on the limb . . . at the present, at least, he could make his mark and establish himself as a definite possibility to carve a niche in the annals of the former Terp stars . . . he impresses with every play and puts on exciting exhibitions on defense as he roves, knocking down passes, making tackles, and chasing the opponent . . . is most zealous and features intense anxiety toward his opponent . . . has uncanny all-around football ability . . . he has great speed and maneuverability . . . can out-run all linemen and a lot of backs . . . he is a great rover on the field because of his quickness and reactions and brilliant diagnosis of plays . . . quick as a cat and has a tremendously fast charge . . . defensively has exceptional strength . . . barring the usual unforseen, Hrezo should begin what would be a brilliant career . . . a fine athlete at Uniontown . . . was all-State first team . . . was all-County and all-Conference . . . also lettered in wrestling and track, as a dash man . . . a member of the national honor society . . . was class president, a member of the student senate and homeroom president, three years . . . a good student . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

CENTERS

BOB HACKER, 20, 6-1, 190, Junior from New Brighton, Pa.—with a most impressive year behind him as reserve center as a sophomore, the hard-working Hacker has taken over as the first team center and is counted on to do an excellent job. which he can and will . . .during spring drills, the rugged Hacker came through with exceptional performances and won the big job from a host of competition . . . the job is his and he can be counted on to make the position one of the more sound up front . . . with his size and know-how at the pivot spot, he could become one of the finest at Maryland in several years . . . has real good speed, quick reactions and does a good job with his original blocking assignment after he gets rid of the ball . . . centers unerringly for punts also . . . does a real good job defensively . . . has a lot of football skill with excellent physical faculties . . . with good strength and his standout ability handling the ball at center and his defensive skill, he has surely healed the spot that was hit by graduation . . . was all-County at Freedom High School . . . married . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

LEROY DIETRICH, 22, 6-1, 195, Senior from Philadelphia, Pa.—the popular big raw-boned Dietrich lends outstanding strength and experience at the center spot . . . the important job will have to be his and Hacker's as the lone returning lettermen at the position . . . the others are up from the freshman squad . . . Dietrich has had two fine years and all spring waged a hectic battle with Hacker for the first team berth . . . the battle will start all over as fall drills open with the affable Dietrich making the bid to move up . . . his good size makes him a tower of strength with fine two-way ability . . . a hard conscientious worker . . . does an exceptional job blocking and does a good job in the ball exchange . . . performs well defensively . . . good tackler . . . is one of the most popular men on the tetam . . . his popularity also extends across the campus into the student body as he was elected President of the Senior Class for this year . . . he also is the new President of the Varsity "M" Club and was elected Vice-President of his fraternity, SAE . . . he also is active in the Newman Club and is on many of the Student Government committees . . . at Northeast Catholic, he was Vice-President of his Senior Class and on the honor roll . . . one of his most cherished honors came last year when he was voted into Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary fraternity . . . he also is a member of Who's Who in American College and Universities . . . was a star athlete in high school . . . was second team all-Catholic and honorable mention all-Scholastic . . . lettered in track and basketball also . . . in School of Arts and Science, majoring in History.

DAVE CROSSAN, 20, 6-2, 205, Sophomore from Collingswood, N. J.—a fine prospect coming up from the freshman team . . . was the first team center for the baby Terps . . . came through with a fine season . . . made a real good impression on Nugent and laid his claim to be one of the future top linemen for the Terps . . . does a commendable job both ways . . . big and strong . . . hard to move out . . . came to Maryland with quite a reputation as a ball player . . . lived up to it as a frosh and is expected to give Hacker and Dietrich a lot of good help . . . was all-America honorable mention at Collingswood High . . . was also all-State as selected by Newark News and AP, and was all-South New Jersey first team . . . also lettered in basketball, baseball, and track . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

BILL NEVELING, 19, 6-0, 190, Sophomore from Bellmawr, N. J.—another fine center candidate from South Jersey coming up from the '59 frosh team . . . like Crossan, he will be given opportunity to give the Terps some depth at the center spot . . . game experience will be big help for the future . . . knowing that he can break into the varsity, Neveling's intense desire to play will help make it quite a battle at the pivot spot . . . also a track man in high school . . . was all-Colonial Conference selection at Haddon Heights High and second team, South Jersey, Group Three . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

ED GILMORE, 19, 5-11, 190, Sophomore from North Bergen, N. J.—the fact that all three center candidates coming up from the '59 freshman team are from New Jersey is purely "coincidental" . . . Gilmore, a big strong boy, also came highly touted after attending Mount St. Michael Academy . . . will make strong bid for varsity duty . . . a good two-way performer . . . has fine potential . . . was all-City and all Metropolitan selection that included the New York City, Long Island, and New Jersey areas . . . also lettered in basketball and track . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

QUARTERBACKS

DALE BETTY, 22, 6-0, 170, Senior from Butler, Pa.—his great performances of last season thrilled Terp fans and surprised the football world as he put on brilliant passing exhibitions to lead the Red and White in their late season surge which saw them winning the final three games . . . Betty did what he knew he could do and was given the chance in '59 to do it . . . he came through with spine-tingling greatness as he made the "experts" of the game sit up and take notice, then jumped on his band-wagon . . . of the five games the Terps won, Betty was at the signal calling post in four of the wins . . . he came off the bench late in the third quarter for his first appearance of the North Carolina game and engineered a 64-yard winning scoring drive . . . he passed to Bob Gallagher for the winning score . . . in the Clemson game, he put on a great one-man passing show as he threw three touchdown passes . . . the last and winning one came as he again was called off the bench with the Terps behind in the fourth quarter . . . he called his sequence expertly and passed magnificently in the drive that was culminated when he placed a perfectly thrown 17-yard scoring pass to end Gary Collins to win the game . . . he hit 7 of 8 passes against the Tigers for 152 yards . . . in his next outing against Virginia, he threw two scoring passes and scored one himself . . . and in the season's final against NC State, he threw three touchdowns and scored one himself . . . and that is a brief summary of the almost unknown at the season's beginning when he was listed third and fourth team . . . along with his equally brilliant quarterback partner Dick Novak,he had a fine spring practice and it will be a comforting one-two punch for the Terps this fall . . . Betty is an outstanding passer, long and short . . . calls a fine sequence of plays and a fine ball handler . . . off his brilliant passing of last fall, he quickly was acclaimed, but a most important asset was the beautiful faking that he does after he gets the ball . . . teaming with the fullback, the execution of the fake is a thing to see . . . the opponents couldn't! . . . also an adequate runner, which he can do and did so well against the Tar Heels . . . Nugent will use the bespectacled Betty who wears contact lenses during the game strictly on offense this year along with Novak, making a very nice situation for the Terps . . . this is a tremendous one-two offensive punch for the Terps . . . the battle for the starting job will be neck and neck, but equal duty is foreseen . . . Betty hit on 39 of his 76 passes, better than 50%, for 552 yards and nine touchdowns, which led the team and sixth in the ACC in no. of completions . . . had a 2.6 rushing average with 88 yards in 34 carries . . . led the team in total offense, just ahead of Novak, with a 5.7 mark for 638 yards for 110 total plays . . . this was fifth best in the ACC . . . a fine punter also, Betty had a 35.4 average for seven kicks . . . had two kickoff returns for 40 yards . . . scored twice . . . will be counted on to have a real big year and help greatly in bringing the Terrapins a winning record, something that has avoided them since 1955 when they went undefeated . . . at Butler High, he was all-WPIAL and all-Allegheny Kiski Valley in a real tough league . . . honorable mention all-State . . . played in the Western Penna. Jaycee all-Star game . . . lettered in basketball, baseball, and track . . . was all-WPIAL basketball in his section . . . on the all-tournament teams . . . in baseball, was on the prep league all-star team two years . . . honor student and president of senior class . . . was given a high honor this spring as he was voted into Omicron, Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary fraternity . . . studying Metallurgical Engineering.

DICK NOVAK, 19, 5-10, 160, Junior from Uniontown, Pa.—the brilliant little signal calling master who came to Maryland from the fertile grid territory of Western Pa. as one of the most highly sought after quarterbacks around his senior year, was magnificent in his collegiate debut against West Virginia last fall . . . he was most conspicuous in tabbing himself as a great quarterback and his performances throughout the year added greatly to his initial luster . . . it was a spine-tingling challenge to the little field general given the starting assignment for his first game and the first game under new coach Tom Nugent . . . if he was under pressure, one couldn't find any . . . he passed and ran the Mountaineers dizzy with his heroics as he threw three touchdown passes and ran for 44 yards . . . he hit on 11 of 18 for 184 yards, an amazing rookie show . . . he received a standing ovation from the big crowd as he left the field with the game already won . . . this hasn't been done for a player in Byrd Stadium in a long time . . . he continued to make his mark each game, although some in a losing effort . . . an injury kept him out of the Syracuse game and he was bothered with some aggravation in other games . . . Novak is a fine triple-threat type quarterback . . . he can run, pass, kick, and call a real smart sequence of plays . . . he also is a good defensive player, but Nugent plans to use his tremendous talents offensively only this season, along with Betty . . . with two seasons with Nugent, he definitely can be the answer to any future success, the dead aim of Richie . . . he is best in the type offense Terps like . . . has all the mental and physical features needed to guide the teams' fortunes . . . had a real fine soph year and should be one of the league's best . . . completed 32 of 72 passes for 486 yards and four td's, eighth best in ACC . . . had a 3.8 rushing average with 150 yards in 39 carries . . . his total offense was 5.7 yards per play for 111 plays, sixth best in ACC . . . had 3 punt returns for 21 yards and three kickoff returns for 45 yards . . . intercepted one pass for 11 yard return . . . played consistently fine ball . . . looked real good again in spring practice and started against the star-studded alums and did a fine job . . . threw two td passes in the spring game and ran for 21 yards on 3 carries . . . was an outstanding athlete at Uniontown's South Union High . . . was selected to the all-Class A team of Pa., and the all-County eleven that claims so many star players . . . was honorable mention all-State and honorable mention all-America on the Wigwam-Wiseman selection . . . was named most valuable football player at South Union . . . was vice-president of junior and senior class . . . also starred in basketball, baseball, and track . . . was voted the most valuable athlete in all three of these also . . . was all-County and all-WPIAL in basketball . . . was most valuable in his basketball section . . . honorable mention all-Sstate in basketball . . . holds the record of scoring the most points in one game, an amazing 54 . . . holds the school and County record for the broad jump, 21' 8 1-4" . . . was the WPIAL broad jump champion . . . received the scholarship award as the most valuable athlete in Fayette County . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

JIM DAVIDSON, 20, 5-11, 165, Junior from Marlton, N. J.—one of the most outstanding backs in the Terp camp in some time . . . listed here as quarterback, but had a sterling rookie reason last fall as left halfback, starting most of the games as a soph . . . can play both positions and could see considerable halfback action again . . . he took his turns at the signal calling spot this spring and gave Nugent enough to give him a shot behind the center . . . but to start things off, the serious, hard-working Davidson is the quarterback of the defense . . . the Terp mentor plans to platoon as much as the new rule permits and has placed Davidson to head the defensive secondary and use Betty and Novak on offense . . . so it will, at the outset, be Davidson playing strictly defense . . . this assignment is a sincere compliment to the outstanding talents of Davidson . . . he is one of the finest defensive backs seen at Maryland and could be its best . . . he has excellent speed and tremendously quick movements and reactions . . . this gives him such a jump in the secondary as he can cover so easily and well . . . accompanying this important asset is the fact that he is a vicious and sure tackler . . . he will be a most valuable safety valve in the Terp secondary . . . if called for offensive duty, he can easily fit into the chores . . . with his blazing speed, he is a dangerous break-away and open field runner . . . had a 3.9 yard rushing average last year as a soph with 139 yards for 35 carries . . . caught four passes for 65 yards and one td . . . had a 36.3 punting average for 11 kicks . . . intercepted two passes for 21 yard return . . . tied for leadership in punt returns with 7 for 43 yards return, an average return of 6.1 yards . . . returned one kickoff for 19 yards . . . scored one td . . . was a big star at Mt. Holly High . . . he is the only five-sport letterman in the history of the school . . . lettered in football, baseball, basketball, track, and tennis . . . was all-South Jersey in football and honorable mention all-State . . . was all-Delaware County and all-Burlington County . . . was voted the best football player two years; best baseball player three years; and was voted the best athlete award his senior year . . . one to watch closely . . . a real good all-around back . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

KEN PSIRA, 24, 5-9, 170, Junior from Silver Spring, Md.—a real fine hard-working quarterback who came out on his own to give the game he likes so well a whirl and has done a fine job . . . earned his letter last fall in playing some good ball . . . he does a good job passing although he threw only three last fall for no completions, but he can hit the target . . . is better short passer . . . has good speed which makes him a threat running and does a good job defensively . . . had a 3.2 rushing mark for four carries for 13 yards . . . returned four punts for 24 yards and six yard mark . . .with more experience early this fall, he could be a big help to quarterback corps . . . attended Roosevelt and Montgomery Blair High, graduating from Blair . . . he was all Bi-County at Blair in 1954 and '55 . . . also lettered in baseball and basketball . . . majoring in advertising.

DON WHITE, 19, 5-11, 175, Sophomore from Downingtown, Pa.—a highly sought after quarterback who came to the Terps with fine reputation . . . did a magnificent job and made a most favorable impression on Nugent . . . shows promise to step in and be a real fine quarterback for the future . . . will be groomed for that purpose . . . an exceptionally fine passer . . . can hit the short and long ones both . . . calls a smart game . . . completed 26 of 47 passes for the baby Terps, five for touchdowns . . . his standout efforts were 8 of 12 against North Carolina and 7 of 13 against Virginia . . . a good runner also . . . can punt well too . . . was honorable mention all-State at Downingtown as well as all-league two years . . . also was all-Scholastic for the Philadelphia area . . . lettered also in basketball and baseball . . . was a member of the national honor society . . . will bear watching for his talents must be molded for future use . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

HALFBACKS

EVERETT CLOUD, 21, 6-0, 185, Senior from McLean, Va.—following two brilliant years for the Terps, the '60 season play of Cloud should be an even greater one . . . he represents one of the finest backs to play for the Red and White and in the new football era of Nugent, his all-around fine football talents are more utilized . . . came here highly touted and sought after by many schools along with major league baseball scouts . . . after deciding on college education over baseball contract, Cloud settled down to hit the Terp camp with explosiveness and has had a most impressive career, one that already has many of the pro teams keenly interested in him . . . in the Nugent "I" and other variations in his offense, the right halfback is a most important man . . . it requires size, strength, speed, quickness, agility, most outstanding blocking ability and a standout pass receiver . . . after experimenting last fall, the one to excel and do the job best was Cloud . . . he responded to the call in magnificent fashion and came up with a very fine season . . . he looked good in doing all that is required of the right halfback . . . he returns now for this season with a full year of experience at the new chore and is expected to be one of his best . . . a fine two-way player as he excels defensively . . . uses his speed, quickness, and maneuverability to the utmost of efficiency in the secondary . . . is a vicious hard tackler, one of the very best . . . is a fine diagnostician of plays . . . offensively, he gives an all-out effort in carrying out his assignments . . . his important blocking assignments are handled to perfection . . . he is a vicious and crisp blocker and when called on for a pass play, he runs his pattern perfectly and is a star target . . . has a good pair of hands and runs hard and with his top speed that he has . . . hard to bring down . . . has fine balance . . . has all the equipment to become one of the best . . . powerfully built, he has no fears while on the field . . . has intense desire to play . . . should be one of the real good ones . . . has a fine attitude . . . with his known capabilities, he definitely will be a candidate for all-star selections . . . caught eight passes for 108 yards last fall and one score . . . ran the ball five times for 3.2 average . . . had 4 kickoff returns for 17.2 average . . . 2 punt returns for 4.5 average . . . even today, his name is Mr. Everything at McLean . . . he still is the all-time big name on McLean . . . was all-Metropolitan on all Washington, D. FULLBACKS

PAT DRASS, 19, 5-10, 180, Junior from Philadelphia, Pa.—this hrilliant all-around football player had a sensational sophomore campaign last fall . . . it was one of the most exciting and most successful ever given by a Terp football player . . . his performances were great ones and left nothing to be desired . . . greatness should come to him this fall as the Terps employ the fullhack to the fullest and the crashing, bull-dozing type runner that he is, will make his mark as a great one, which he is . . . his debut as a rookie was an auspicious one and amost conspicuous one . . . could be the best fullback in the league and in many other areas . . . a good winning year will bring him the notices that his performances will justify . . . touted to the hilt when he enrolled at Maryland, the rock-like fullback has excellent speed for his powerfully built 5-10 frame . . . his speed was better than his standout predecessor, Jim Joyce, who won many honors last season . . . Drass is likened to him, although the upcoming junior had a decided edge in speed . . . they are both from the same high school, Bishop Neumann . . . Drass played behind Joyce there and a year for the Terps, but now he has it all to himself . . . if he has anything to do with it, there isn't anybody about to take the job away from him . . . he is a murderous line plunger . . . a crack at the line always means at least the important three and more . . . he batters the line with reckless abandon . . . a noticeable and eye-catching type ball carrier . . . most effective blocker . . . it looks like the swipe of a scythe as he blocks . . . a brilliant defensive back . . . one of the hardest nosed tacklers in the game . . . likes to crack and hits hard . . . carried 77 times last season for 264 yards and a 3.4 average per rush . . . scored once . . . caught two passes . . . returned two kickoffs for 37 yards . . . was all-America honorable mention . . . also honorable mention all-Scholastic and was an all-Catholic selection . . . an honor student . . . class officer . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

BRUCE COULTAS, 20, 6-0, 185, Sophomore from Madison, N. J.—after a real good year on the B squad and an impressive spring practice, it looks as though the hard-working Coultas will get the call for a lot of duty this fall . . . the experience gained last fall and the spring work has aided him to become an even more of a top prospect . . . he was that when he came to the Terps from Madison High . . . he will be needed . . . this chance will be given for he has shown that he could be one of the better backs in camp . . . the potential is there . . . a fine runner with good speed . . . hits hard and effectively . . . good blocker and adequate defensively . . . was all-State and all-County . . . also all-Conference . . . was voted the most valuable player award . . . also lettered in baseball and basketball . . . was all-conference and all-County in baseball . . . was class officer his soph and junior years . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

KENNY SMITH, 20, 5-10, 180, Sophomore from Bethesda, Md.—here is a boy named Smith whose name seems destined to really become well-known, and that is Kenny Smith, the Maryland football player . . . Smith is one who should be a great football player and a great star for three years for the Terps . . . he represents one of the BEST . . . his high school record at Bethesda-Chevy Chase and Bullis Prep was an enviable one . . . his scholastic brilliance spread across the nation and his collegiate efforts could easily do the same, but with tremendous impact and meaning as one of the game's most outstanding football players . . . has all the attributes, potential, and tools to win himself this recognition and at the same time bring to Maryland some fine victories . . . Nugent has tabbed him as one of the finest looking football players he ever has seen . . . the Terp coaches fought valiantly for his services as he was so highly sought after . . . an outstanding prospect . . . is a fabulous hard runner with tremendous power and outstanding speed . . . he runs with authority . . . if he gets daylight, he is most dangerous with the football . . . should another of the very best . . . will be needed and if used, could be one of the early season sensations . . . also strong defensive player and a real fine blocker . . . led the baby Terp ball carriers with 39 carries for 181 yards . . . had a 90 yard kickoff return for TD against South Carolina . . . had a big day against Virginia as he carried 21 times for 100 yards . . . was all-America in high school . . . also all-State and all-Metropolitan on all DC selections . . . also lettered in baseball . . . second team all-Metropolitan . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

The history of the present University is the history of two institutions: the old privately-owned and operated University of Maryland in Baltimore and the Maryland State College (formerly Maryland Agricultural College) at College Park. These institutions were merged in 1920.

In 1807, the College of Medicine of Maryland was organized, the fifth medical school in the United States. The first class was graduated in 1810. A permanent home was established in 1814-1815 by the erection of the building at Lombard and Green Streets in Baltimore, the oldest structure in America devoted to medical teaching. Here was founded one of the first medical libraries (and the first medical school library) in the United States. In 1812 the General Assembly of Maryland authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to "annex or constitute facilities of divinity, law, and arts and science," and by the same act declared that the "colleges or faculties thus united should be constituted an university by the name and under the title of the University of Maryland." By authority of this act, steps were taken in 1813 to establish "a faculty of law," and in 1823 a regular school of instruction in law was opened. Subsequently there were added: in 1882 a Department of Dentistry which was absorbed in 1923 by the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (founded in 1840, the first dental school in the world); in 1889 a School of Nursing; and in 1904 the Maryland College of Pharmacy (founded in 1841, the third oldest pharmacy college in the United States).

The Maryland State College was chartered in 1856 under the name of the Maryland Agricultural College, the second agricultural college in the Western Hemisphere. For three years the College was under private management. In 1862 the Congress of the United States passed the Land Grant Act. This act granted each State and Territory that should claim its benefits an appropriate amount of unclaimed western lands, in place of scrip, the proceeds from the sale of which should apply under certain conditions to the "endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such a manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life." This grant was accepted by the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Maryland Agricultural College was named as the beneficiary of the grant. Thus the College became, at least in part, a State institution. In the fall of 1914 control was taken over entirely by the State. In 1916 the General Assembly granted a new charter to the College, and made it the Maryland State College.

In 1920, by an act of the State Legislature, the University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College, and the resultant institution was given the name University of Maryland.

baseball for the base team and was an assistant football coach and scout for the Ft. Bliss grid teams.

Following his discharge he joined Nugent and his staff at Florida State where he was the 1958 freshman coach. Then the move to Maryland with Nugent.

He was returned to the States and assigned as Athletic Officer at Pensacola Naval Air Station Here he helped coach the base football and basketball and baseball teams.

Following discharge, he returned to Ithaca in the spring of 1946 to resume his studies and assist coaching the varsity football and baseball teams and coach of the freshman basketball and baseball teams. He graduated with a B.S. in Physical Education in June of 1947. He became backfield coach at Ithaca and freshman basketball and baseball coach. During this time, he was with the Utica baseball team, a Phillie farm. He received his Masters Degree in PE in June of 1948. He played pro baseball for a Niagara team in Canada. He has worked as a scout for the Phillies.

In the Fall of 1948 he went to Waverly, N. Y. High School as head football and baseball coach. His grid teams of six years had the fine record of 39 wins against eight losses. His teams won the Southern Counties League Championship the last four years he coached.

He went to Florida State as Nugent's assistant in 1954 and has been with him since.

A high honor came to him last year when he was elected into the Hall of Fame at Canisius Prep School.

He is married and has a son, Michael, 8.
